Empowering Women's Health: Comprehensive Check-Up on Women's Day at Shoolini University

International Women's Day is celebrated in many countries around the world. It is a day when women are recognized for their achievements without regard to divisions, whether national, ethnic, linguistic, cultural, economic or political. Shoolini University celebrates this day every year. This time, along with the celebrations, a health check-up camp in collaboration with MMU, Solan was organized on Women's Day. The camp provided free medical check-up to people in the region, with doctors from MMU coming from the fields of orthopaedics, gynaecology, cardiac and ophthalmology. The health check-up camp was held at the Milkha Singh Sports Complex, from 10 AM to 3 PM. A total of 120 faculty staff and students got themselves checked in the medical check-up camp organised at the university.

Mrs. Poonam Nanda, the Dean Student Welfare, expressed her enthusiasm about the event, saying, "We are pleased to collaborate with MMU, Solan, to provide free medical check-ups for the people of the region. Health is a critical aspect of life, and we must take care of our bodies. This health check-up camp supported by MMU is an excellent initiative, and we hope to continue providing such services to the community."
