EVENT REPORT

The UBA Cell of Dogra Degree College organised an enriching Guest Lecture on “Human Rights in the 21st Century” in observance of Human Rights Day. The programme aimed to enhance students’ awareness of human rights, constitutional guarantees, and the responsibilities that accompany these rights in a democratic society. The session featured distinguished legal expert Adv. Anil Verma as the Guest Speaker. In his insightful address, he elaborated on the evolution of human rights at national and international levels, the need for human rights in contemporary society, and the scope and significance of Fundamental Rights under the Indian Constitution. He also addressed emerging concerns in the digital era, including privacy, cyber safety, and personal dignity. Adv. Verma spoke at length about gender equality, child protection laws, and the role of democratic institutions in upholding justice. Emphasising the responsibility of citizens, he urged students to respect diversity, practice empathy, and raise their voice against injustice in any form. His interactive examples and real-life references encouraged participants to reflect on the practical relevance of human rights in daily life. The programme commenced with a Welcome Address by Ms. Amarpreet Kour, Lecturer (B.Com), who highlighted the importance of Human Rights Day and the college’s commitment to value-based education. As a gesture of respect, Ms. Simran Thakur, UBA Member, DDC presented a sapling to Adv. Anil Verma symbolising growth and sustainability. This was followed by the presentation of a Certificate of Appreciation by Mr. R.S. Katal, Member, Advisory Committee and Governing Body, Dogra Educational Trust, acknowledging the speaker’s contribution to legal awareness and social justice. Dr. Bela Thakur, principal DDC, also graced the occasion with her presence and support. Adding depth to the programme, students from BA, BBA, and B.Com performed a compelling skit on human rights issues, portraying discrimination, inequality, and the importance of speaking up against violations

The event was organized with the purpose of equipping students with essential knowledge and understanding of human rights. The programme aimed to empower students to actively perform outreach activities and create awareness among community members about constitutional rights, human dignity, and civic responsibilities, thereby promoting informed and responsible citizenship. The initiative was designed to build students' capacity as change agents by deepening their understanding of human rights issues in contemporary society. Through this interaction, students were encouraged to disseminate the acquired knowledge among villagers, promote respect for human dignity, and contribute to the creation of a rights-conscious and inclusive community. The programme strengthened the UBA Cell's objective of bridging academic learning with community service and social responsibility.
