Summary report on World IP Day Celebrations-Leveraging IPRs for Academic Excellence

The World IP Day session on "Leveraging IPRs for Academic Excellence" conducted by CIST in association with IIC was a resounding success. With Mr. Subhajith Saha's expertise and engaging presentation, first-year CSE students gained valuable insights into the world of intellectual property rights. The session successfully achieved its objectives of raising awareness about IP, encouraging responsible use, and inspiring students to contribute to academic excellence through innovative and ethical practice. The coordination by Mr. B. Lingam ensured the smooth execution of the session, providing a valuable learning experience to the students.

Mr. Subhajith Saha provided a comprehensive overview of intellectual property rights, including patents, copyrights, trademarks, and trade secrets. He explained how these rights serve as legal tools to protect the creations of the human mind and encourage innovation. The resource person highlighted the importance of IP rights in promoting academic research and development. Students learned how IP protection incentivizes researchers and inventors to share their knowledge while ensuring they can reap the benefits of their work. Mr. Saha addressed common challenges related to IP in academia, such as avoiding plagiarism, respecting copyright laws, and navigating patent application processes. He offered practical solutions and best practices to overcome these challenges. The session covered the process of IP commercialization and technology transfer. Students were introduced to successful case studies where academic research was transformed into marketable products or services through licensing and collaboration with industries. Mr. Saha emphasized the ethical aspects of using intellectual property. Students gained insights into the importance of respecting the IP rights of others and adhering to ethical practices in their academic and professional endeavors.

The session included an interactive question and answer segment, allowing students to seek clarification on IP-related topics and real-world scenarios. Mr. Saha addressed their queries, further enhancing their understanding of IP rights. The resource person shared inspiring stories of individuals who utilized IP protection to transform their ideas into successful ventures. These stories motivated the students to consider the value of their own innovations and the potential impact they could make in the future.
