Objectives:

- Provide a platform for global researchers to exchange knowledge, share insights, and discuss cutting-edge research across various disciplines.
- Encourage interdisciplinary collaboration by bringing together researchers from diverse fields, fostering a cross-pollination of ideas and methodologies.
- Showcase high-quality research papers that demonstrate excellence in methodology, innovation, and contribution to their respective fields.
- Attempt to set a record in "A Cholan Book of Record" by organizing a marathon-style presentation format, aiming to make the conference memorable and distinctive.
- Create a conducive environment for networking among researchers, scholars, and academicians, promoting the exchange of ideas and potential collaborations.
- Promote discussions on advanced research methodologies, tools, and techniques, contributing to the continuous improvement of research practices across disciplines.

Outcomes:

- set a record in "A Cholan Book of Record" by organizing a marathon-style paper presentation, creating a unique and memorable conference experience.
- Facilitate opportunities for researchers to publish their papers in reputable journals, proceedings, or conference publications, thereby contributing to the dissemination of knowledge.
- Stimulate cross-disciplinary collaborations and initiatives as a result of interactions and discussions during the conference, fostering a holistic and integrated approach to research.
- Recognize outstanding research contributions through awards, certificates, or commendations, promoting a culture of excellence within the global research community.
- Enhance engagement within the global research community, establishing the conference as a significant annual event that promotes international collaboration and the exchange of ideas.
- Contribute to the advancement of research practices by facilitating discussions on emerging trends, ethical considerations, and best practices in research methodologies.

Summary Report

- The Global Research Conference, organized by the CAPE Forum, aimed to facilitate knowledge exchange, promote interdisciplinary collaboration, showcase research excellence, and set a record in "A Cholan Book of Record" through a unique marathon-style paper presentation.
- The conference featured a distinctive attempt to set a record in "A Cholan Book of Record" by organizing a marathon-style paper presentation. This novel approach garnered significant attention and set the event apart.
- Researchers and scholars from diverse fields and geographical locations participated in the conference, creating a global platform for the exchange of ideas, research findings, and collaboration opportunities.
- The conference successfully fostered interdisciplinary collaboration, bringing together experts from various disciplines. Participants engaged in discussions that transcended traditional boundaries, enriching the overall academic discourse.
- Participants were recognized for their outstanding research contributions through awards, certificates, or commendations. The acknowledgment served to highlight and celebrate excellence within the global research community.
- The Global Research Conference Paper Presentation Marathon, organized by the CAPE Forum, not only achieved its objectives of knowledge exchange and interdisciplinary collaboration but also set a record in "A Cholan Book of Record."

Impact Analysis:

- The remarkable attempt to set a record in "A Cholan Book of Record" through the marathon-style paper presentation has generated significant attention and interest, establishing the conference as a distinctive and memorable event
- Presenting in the Global Research Conference has elevated the visibility of participants within the global research community. The unique format and record-setting attempt have attracted attention from scholars, institutions, and professionals worldwide.
- The interdisciplinary nature of the conference has facilitated cross-disciplinary collaboration. Researchers from diverse fields have interacted, exchanged ideas, and explored potential collaborative projects that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries.
- Participants have received recognition for their research contributions through awards, certificates, or commendations. This acknowledgment serves as a validation of their scholarly achievements and promotes a culture of excellence within the academic community.
- The conference has provided a platform for participants to explore publication opportunities. The dissemination of their research findings through reputable journals or conference proceedings will contribute to the broader academic discourse.
- Participation in the conference has contributed to the professional development of attendees. Exposure to diverse research approaches, innovative methodologies, and expert insights has enriched their skill sets and expanded their understanding of their respective fields.
- The conference has strengthened engagement within the global research community. Attendees are now part of a network that extends beyond geographical boundaries, fostering continuous collaboration and information exchange.
