Date of Event: 14-2-2026

Organized by: School of Agriculture

Event Coordinator: Dr. Satish Chand

Objective:

- To spread awareness about the importance of cleanliness and hygiene
- To promote healthy living and sanitation practices among rural communities
- To encourage community participation in maintaining a clean environment

Report:

The School of Agriculture, Sanskriti University, under the aegis Unnat Bharat Abhiyan organized a Cleanliness Awareness Program in the adopted village of the university, Akbarpur. The program was conducted as part of the university’s extension and outreach initiatives aimed at improving public health and environmental hygiene in rural areas. Faculty members and students actively participated in the program and interacted with villagers to emphasize the importance of personal hygiene, clean surroundings, and proper sanitation practices. Awareness was created about waste management, prevention of diseases, and the role of cleanliness in leading a healthy life. The students motivated the villagers to adopt cleanliness as a regular habit and highlighted the collective responsibility of the community in maintaining a clean and healthy environment. The program received positive participation and cooperation from the local residents.

Program Outcome:

- Increased awareness regarding cleanliness and hygiene among villagers
- Promotion of healthy sanitation and waste disposal practices
- Active involvement of students in community service

No. of Faculty attended: 06

No. of Student attended: (List of students) 25

Co-coordinator: Dr. Ashish Tiwari

Conclusion:

The Cleanliness and Hygiene Awareness Program effectively promoted hygienic practices and environmental cleanliness among the rural community. The initiative supported the objectives of Unnat Bharat Abhiyan and strengthened community participation in maintaining a clean and healthy village.
