Date of Event: 21-3-2026

Organized by: School of Agriculture

Event Coordinator: Dr. Satish Chand

Objectives of the Program

- To create awareness about digital literacy among rural residents
- To educate villagers about the use of digital tools and online services
- To promote safe and responsible use of digital platforms
- To support digital inclusion and empowerment under Unnat Bharat Abhiya

Description of Activity

The School of Agriculture, Sanskriti University, under the aegis of the Unnat Bharat Abhiyan organized a Digital Literacy Awareness Program in Akbarpur village. The program was conducted as an extension and outreach activity with the objective of enhancing digital awareness and technological understanding among the rural community. Faculty members and students interacted with village youth and literate farmers and explained the basic use of digital devices such as smartphones and computers. Awareness was created regarding digital services including online banking, digital payments, government portals, online education platforms, and mobile applications useful for agriculture and daily life. Special emphasis was given on cyber safety, protection from online frauds, and responsible use of social media. The program encouraged villagers to adopt digital technology for improving access to information, services, and opportunities.

Outcomes of the Program

- Increased awareness about digital literacy and online services
- Improved understanding of digital tools and cyber safety
- Encouraged use of digital platforms for education, banking, and government services
- Strengthened university–village relationship under Unnat Bharat Abhiyan
