

Unnat Bharat Abhiyan is inspired by the vision of transformational change in rural development processes by leveraging knowledge institutions to help build the architecture of an inclusive India. The Mission of Unnat Bharat Abhiyan is to enable higher educational institutions to work with the people of rural India in identifying development challenges and evolving appropriate solutions for accelerating sustainable growth. It also aims to create a virtuous cycle between society and an inclusive academic system by providing knowledge and practices for emerging professions and to upgrade the capabilities of both the public and the private sectors in responding to the development needs of rural India. National Institute of Technology, Delhi is also a constituent of Unnat Bharat Abhiyan and has adopted five nearby villages – Tikri Khurd, Alipur, Ghoga, Bhorgarh and Bankner to implement the Gandhian vision of self-sufficient ‘village republics’ based on local resources and decentralized, eco-friendly technologies.
